DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a two and one half story frame house with a gable roof. There are three bays on the front facade. Above the double door in the middle bay is a projecting bay with a gable above. This projecting center bay is supported by a rectangular column at each of the front corners. In the gable, which is ornamented by a diamond and circle pattern, is a round arched window. On the east side of the house is a two story polygonal bay window under a gable. The house has recently been altered by the addition of aluminum siding, aluminum windows, and a new front door. It appears that there may have originally been a one story porch across the front of this building.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This vernacular style house, built around the turn of the 20th century, is similar to others on Locust Street of this basic type, with a center gabled pavilion. These homes were probably built by the same contractor, and are fairly simple with a minimum of ornamentation, typical of the late 19th century.
